At any stage of the grievance procedure, including Arbitration, the conferring parties may have the assistance of the employee or employees concerned and any necessary witnesses, and all reasonable arrangements will be made to permit the conferring parties to have access to the workplace and to view disputed operations and to confer with necessary witnesses. A representative of the Corporate Support Services Department may be in attendance at all grievance meetings from Step 2 on.

In this Article, the term “working days” shall exclude Saturdays, Sundays, and paid holidays.

The President of the Union shall be bound to take the same steps and abide by the same time limits as is required of the Corporation.

Failing resolution of the grievance at Step 2, the Corporation may proceed to Step 3 by sending notice to the Union of its intention to refer the matter to arbitration.

Whenever the Manager/Supervisor or the President of the Union is not available, their designate may receive grievances, hold meetings, and make responses on their behalf.

6.09 Notice of Discipline
